National drug enforcement officers were surprised in a dawn raid at their staging base on Tuesday by health and safety inspectors.

Undercover officers were issued with Hi-Viz vests and hard hats in compliance with employee welfare guidance for the disused storage premises.

Wishing to remain anonymous, one source commented, "This job's dangerous enough as it is."

The reopening of beloved Beale Street bakers Samuel & Son is to be celebrated with a family fun day. The pastry and pie trader, est. 1889, was forced to close following the death of popular patriarch "Sammy" Samuel Sr, 68, Samuel & Son's successor, childless Sam Samuel Jr, 36, comments: "I might have to change the name. I'll check with my wife."

BACK ON BEALE STREET

A Hewton nursery school forced to close for asbestos removal has relocated classes to the cemetery behind the school grounds. The pupils—if not parents—have reacted warmly to the move.

The outdoor arrangement will last for three weeks while temporary classrooms are installed.

LESSONS FROM THE GRAVEYARD

The slaying of veterinarian John Simpson, 62, certified local residents when his blood-stained clothing was found in the wetlands south of Badon on August 7, 1991.

The "Bayou Butcher" has been identified as Trevor, 84, a saltwater crocodile who briefly escaped Harrow Zoo in younger days. Trevor recently had the misfortune of regurgitating his victim's pacemaker.

Police admit it is now unclear why Mr Simpson's clothes were found neatly folded—though spattered with viscera.

The Lord has seen fit to provide for the maintenance of the United Evangelical Advent Church's iconic blue roof. You are invited to join us this Sunday in our main hall for worship. Tradesmen devotees are particularly welcome. This is a time where we come together to worship God, and learn more from the Bible. And paint the roof.

GOSPEL BLUES

The First National Bank of 3—7 Union Street was damaged in an arson attack yesterday morning. The blaze originated inside the vault, destroying the entire stock of paper currency. No suspects have yet been charged.

MONEY TO BURN

Blustery rainfall in the Chicago metropolitan area on the 23rd Oct has bucked a trend of record temperatures from Kansas to the East Coast.

Kentucky State Rep. (R) Chuck Paul tweeted: "Climate change is such a bad thing, right liberals?"
